WASHINGTONVILLE
LOCAL GLEANINGS

By Peter M. Herald.

Recent rains have made extra work for the street commissioner.

Mrs. Samantha Simpson is here from Alliance on a week's visit with her neighbors.

Mrs. Thos. McIntosh will start next week for an extended visit with relatives in Nova Scotia.

The Farquhar hill west of Millville is being worked by a steam traction engine from Greenford.

Dr. E. Moore and wife spent Saturday and Sunday with friends and relatives in Youngstown and Warren.

Rev. W. E. Hollett and family of Garrettville spent Thursday at the home of her parents, Jos. Woods and wife.

This is more than an ordinary wet July, and owing to the backward spring, it comes in time for good crops later in the season.

Daniel Rohrer, wife and two children of Lancaster county, Pa., are visiting at the home of Adam Wenger in Green township. Both parents are deaf mutes.

Mrs. Homer Reiffer (nee Lucy Cole) and two sons of Leesburgh, Pa., are visiting at the home of her aunt, Mrs. W. E. Roller. Her husband, Dr. Reiffer, will join his wife here this week.

John Hilvly of Greenford, section boss on the Erie road, spent Friday trying to employ men to harvest the right of way along the R. R. at $10 a mile, but there were none in sight at that price.

E. S. Freed and Miss Muriel McIntosh have been solicited to teach in the school of the city of Youngstown, but Miss McIntosh is needed here, and Prof. Freed may "accept a call" to Rochester, Pa.

Columbiana county raised but 256,377 bushels of wheat last year, not enough to feed her people. (Salem) township produced 26,644 bushels. Butler township leads in wheat and oats, wheat 28,246, oats 60,503. Unity township leads in corn, with 54,480 bushels.

The Cherry Valley Iron Co. is well stocked with iron ore, coke, limestone and pig iron and is building a plant a few hundred yards north of the furnace in which to extract iron from the ore, which heretofore has been a waste and was carted along the highway.

It has been noticed that during the dry spell of the past few weeks the birds, having hatched their broods, went to the bushes along the creek bottoms, but that since the recent rains the birds have returned to the village and make merry with their songs.

During the rainy days the past week the weather was so abnormally cool for those in summer clothing that fire was comfortable until the sun's rays caused the thermometer to get above 65. A fire in July is rather a novelty as a means of creating a satisfactory temperature. It is probably the only time of the year when a fire is so closely followed by Maud Muller weather. But Maud is not in it with present hay-making machinery.

A Mt. Union correspondent writes: E. S. Freed was presented a handsome Bible at the Sunday school hour, Sunday by the ladies of the city of Youngstown. The Bible was presented by the Union Avenue M. E. church Sunday school as a mark of their appreciation of his work as the teacher of the class. The Misses Telters, Elliott and Hollies were a committee to select the gift. Rev. John J. McAlpine presented the Bible on behalf of the class. Mr. Freed will soon go to Washingtonville.

Frank Wines of East Liverpool has been found guilty of white slavery. The evidence brought out in the case showed Wines took Mary and Hazel Densmore, the latter under age, on a tour through the states, and then to Virginia and Ohio and trafficked in their virtue, pocketing the money thus obtained. The officers got after him and the girls told the story of their treatment. After a 5-year sentence had been imposed upon Wines by Judge Farr, and he was awaiting his charge yet, he was taken to the court house and had to be hauled back to jail in an automobile.

Colossians 2, 14th verse was used by Rev. M. C. Grimes in his sermon Sunday night. It was a very comfortable atmosphere that was the Sunday night previous. This being a "wet" village, the speaker may be pleased sometime to preach from the 16th verse of the same chapter. In closing, the pastor announced that he has secured the services of several ministers to assist him in conducting an entire week's program the last week of August, just preceding the Sunday on which the new church building is to be dedicated. He asked the members to pray that there will be as glorious times in the new church as there was in the old—which means that there will be mid-week prayer meetings, class meetings, Epworth league services and such other helps restored as will make this truly and distinctively a Methodist Episcopal church, where the members will dwell together in harmony and richness of spirit.

Mrs. Katharine Welkart Roller, aged 72 years, widow of the late David G. Roller, died at her home north of Washingtonville Thursday at noon after a lingering illness of tubercular trouble. The deceased is survived by her two daughters, Misses May and Gay, who live at home, and one sister, Miss Letta Welkart, who made her home with her sister; four brothers, P. W. Welkart, of Alliance; Samuel Welkart, of Forest; Louis Welkart, of Piqua; and Hiram Welkart, of Leetonia. Funeral services were held at the home Monday at 1 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Mr. Brillhart of the Lutheran church. Burial in the beautiful family plot of the Leetonia cemetery which is marked by a substantial family monument. The reason for holding the remains until Monday is that the deceased disliked Sunday funerals. Since the death of her husband she has lived a quiet and retired life in the beautiful home, surrounded with all comforts of this life and a prospect of the happy life which is to come.

CAMPMEETING AT SHILTON'S GROVE

begins Friday of next week, August 2.

Luxieul Bros. will replace the tents at the camp place and make a 200-ton crib for the camp.

Misses Clara, Bessie, and Grace Welkart and Miss Vera Slack spent Tuesday in Youngstown.

Miss Clara Woods is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. E. Hollett, at the M. E. parsonage in Garrettville.

Preaching in the Lutheran church Sunday night by Rev. John Grimm, a native of this village.

Chas. Angemyer attended the monthly meeting of Edie station agents in Youngstown, Wednesday.

El Slagle says he will have 100 tons of hay this harvest. His wheat and oats outlook are also encouraging.

Victor Davies of Turtle Creek, Pa., was here Sunday calling on his best girl who is a guest of the Welkart sisters.

Leon Luxieul, having laid several covered floors in Salem, has recently laid one in his own front room on West Main street.

The Leetonia & Cherry Valley R. R. has a new valuation of $102,510 for 1912, which is an increase of $960 over that of 1911.

The Roller family reunion will be held on the Harry Hartzell farm, near Stop 2, Y. & O., August 15. This is always a large gathering.

Wm. Fisher and wife were in Youngstown over Sunday, and saw the man who was so badly used up in an automobile accident.

Since J. E. Gilbert and C. H. Welkart are the carbo via and applied the oil upon the curb street, the piano refrain has been "Everybody's doing it."

The Shakespeare class in our high school is composed of ten pupils, who are now as far as Hamlet, and are afraid of the ghost, nor do they soliloquize "Alas poor Yorick!"

Rev. C. W. Smith of the Salem M. E. church preached a sermon last Sunday advising all to spend their summer vacations in the country, using Christ's own words as a text, as follows: "Come and rest awhile."

Prof. R. Emory Beetham of Mt. Union-Solo college has been secured by Prof. J. L. Gray to deliver the class address at our high school commencement exercise to be held in the Lutheran church Thursday night, August 8.

Salem News: Mr. and Mrs. David Morningstar and Mr. and Mrs. William Potts visited Washingtonville friends Sunday. Miss Myrtle Holland returned Monday morning to Wooster to resume her studies in the summer school of Wooster university after visiting a few days at her home at Millville.

Men who have been accustomed to working 8 hours for a day, and being their own boss, and working in a cool, shady place, find it quite burdensome to pay car fare to Salem, work from 10 to 12 hours and be ordered here and there, then get less pay than they can make at home mining coal or clay. But such is life.

We are pleased to notice that our old friend, Prof. James H. Beal, of Solo college, has been appointed by President Taft to be chief of the bureau of chemistry, succeeding Dr. Hickey W. Wiley. Aside from Dr. Wiley, his successor was considered the best chemist in this country, when Solo college was at its best.

Miss Mary Guerle of Youngstown, sister of Mrs. Ed. Luxieul, sailed for France about three weeks ago and reached friends here that she had been her dearest wish. She is a cultivated French lady and will no doubt be greatly benefited by her return visit to the vine-clad hills of her native country, including la belle France.

A beautiful night blooming cernus in Mrs. S. Taylor's garden commenced opening Sunday night, but like many other beautiful things which are not a joy forever, they are short lived. So in order to preserve the bloom she cut one from the parent stalk and is preserving it in water. The night bloomers are of the cactus family and are of various varieties.

Several more tenants and property owners on Main street offered their share of the street on Monday. Last year they were told that it was a joke for the council to oil the street, but this year it is taken as reality. Oil is a better sedative of dust than to pave with brick, and is cheaper than water. The knockers of last year are now advocates, and next year it ought to be a crime not to oil the streets.

Ira Schurenberger, having had the highest grades at the recent civil service examination, has again been appointed carrier of rural delivery mail for this route. He gave satisfaction when carrying mail on this route some ten or more years ago, when the pay was about one-third of what it is now, and he is so well acquainted with the patrons that fewer mistakes are liable. All the patrons, as a rule, are good citizens and do all within their power to make it convenient for the carrier.

The West Virginia Gas company's mains are being extended westward on Main street from the residence of councilman Luxieul to mayor Stouffer's, and southward from the Erie crossing past the residence of Jos. Frederick to J. E. Lewis' and E. L. Stouffer's country homes south of Stop 11, taking in the dwellings of Geo. Scuttliffe, Jos. Frederick's tenement houses, the Erie depot, Geo. Summerville, O. C. Welkart, Wm. Jones and Thos. Heaton. The gas rates are fixed for five years by the franchise ordinance and can not exceed 30 cents per 1000 feet, to be computed by the meters. Past rates have been 25 cents per thousand and hereafter it will be 28 cents per thousand, payable on the 5th of each month at the store of J. C. Welkart & Son. Street lights are furnished the village at flat rates of 50 cents per month for each light, burning all the time.

The Unlucky Rat. It is always a good thing to exterminate rats, which do less good and more harm than all most any other animal in the world.—New York Tribune.
